

DLP #36

1. Costa Rica, one of the few countries in the world that doesn't have no army, educates it's population good the central American country has a 93 percent literacy rate.
2. Would you borrow me your notes from that Social Studies lecture about the bill of rites, I should of listened more careful.

DLP #37

1. Are we already for a high tech future or is it already here?
2. To enjoy good health, you should try to maintain a positive mental attitude tell yourself, when a bad thing happens, that this, too, shall pass.

DLP #38

1. The average American generates 1000 lbs of recyclable garbage each year how much of this is actually recycled?
2. Paint accounts for about 60% of the hazardous waste that came from homes.

DLP #39

1. By the year 2000, more than half of the kids in the United States will have spent part of their life's in single parent homes.
2. Oceans are as much as 90 percent barren completely without life they're like wet deserts.

DLP #40

1. We find out in astronomy 101. that the planet earth is the heavier of all the planets in our Solar system.
2. Laff, and the World laff with you, weep, and you weep alone.